A turnkey island property in the heart of Go Home Bay, this 1.9-acre island offers a 2300 sq. ft. cottage with four connecting bedrooms and two bathrooms. All recently, meticulously designed by Paul Hughes.

The design is compact and simple, preserving the original 1935 cabin and accentuating the Georgian Bay experience; smooth rock, wind contorted pines, vast water, a huge, ever changing horizon and the utterly breathtaking views.

Perfectly positioned on the edge of the open water the cottage is oriented to the breathtaking views south to Cognashene and west towards Giants Tomb.

The cottage features a living room with a stone fireplace and a breezeway that leads to the original cabin that houses dining, kitchen and a covered porch.
